

Moose Legion Recognition by Medal Of Honor and Elite Ring Programs

(per COR – effective 11-1-2011)

10.2 - Personal Membership Recognition – The Moose Legion Medal of Honor is presented to a Moose Legionnaire in recognition of attaining fifty (50) membership units. A diamond is added to the medal when the Moose Legionnaire attains units at levels of 150, 250, 350, 450, and 550.

The Elite Moose Legionnaire Ring is a sterling silver ring presented to a Moose Legionnaire in recognition of attaining one hundred (100) membership units. A diamond is added to the ring when the Moose Legionnaire attains units at levels of 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 700, 800, and 900. A gold ring is awarded at one thousand (1,000) membership units and a diamond added for each one hundred (100) unit level thereafter.

Sponsors who attain the Medal of Honor receive a letter, and a special medallion, which may be worn on the breast pocket of their degree regalia. Once a sponsor achieves the 100-unit level they are awarded the Elite Ring. Each of these awards are then updated as the member advances per the above recognition levels.

In addition, sponsors achieving the Medal of Honor (MOH) for the first year are invited to the International Moose 25-Club Party at our annual convention. An existing MOH holder who sponsors at least five Moose Legion members during a campaign year also qualifies for this invitation.

Further, if a Moose Legionnaire sponsor is a 25-Club Member and a Medal of Honor Member and then qualifies in both the programs – (by sponsoring five members in each program during the campaign) - he would then receive an invitation that included one level higher in the seating category he would otherwise get. It really does pay to be a sponsor and help build both the lodge and the Moose Legion!

As members of the Degree of Service, it is our responsibility to help build the strength of the Order. We can do it – one member at a time, by inviting individuals to become part of the lodge and then to become eligible themselves and advance to be a part of the program of the Moose Legion.

How close are you to achieving these levels of distinction in your sponsorship record? Only you can make it happen - by inviting qualified lodge brothers to advance to the Moose Legion. Please invite a qualified lodge brother to become part of our program to support Mooseheart and Moosehaven today!
